MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN FIRST ANNUAL MEETING

INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL CLUB NOW SUCCESSFULLY LAUNCHED IN ITS WORK.

W. H. MYLREA'S STRONG PLEA

Report of President A. P. Lovejoy and Chairman of Various Committees Given, Showing Much Progress.

Persons who may have been skeptical relative to the good work accomplished by the Industrial and Commercial Association, had all their doubts swept away last evening when the first annual meeting of the association was held. The reports of the president and chairman of the various committees given and the work accomplished in the past year made public.

Former Attorney General W. H. Mylrea, secretary of the recently organized Wisconsin Advancement Association, was the guest of the evening and delivered a strong address on what this new organization hopes to accomplish for the state at large. His address came at the conclusion of the business portion of the evening's session, after the report of the president and of the committees had been heard and the nonpartisan committee had recommended the re-election of the present board of directors.

In opening his talk Mr. Mylrea paid Janesville a most tribute, speaking of the great future in store for this city.

W. H. MYLREA.

and then took up his subject which was the growth of the state at large. He began by referring directly to the decrease in the amount of homestead lands of the west which are fast decreasing in number and stated that all the government now has to offer prospective settlers are lands within the irrigated districts. These lands are costly to the individual and must carry for years a mortgage in the form of water bonds. The attractions of these western lands are losing out and the tide of migration to that section of the country is temporarily checked. The south has not many advantages to offer and still the people are hanging for land and are beginning to realize that the man who holds some real estate is independent. With the vast horde of people passing to the west and south every year it should be the object of the inhabitants of Wisconsin to divert a part or all of this flow to their own state. By just such a movement as this Advancement Association this can be done, by showing to the settler the advantages of the northern lands of this state.

Mr. Mylrea introduced some very interesting statistics to show that something ought to be done to bring people to this state. In 1900, the total sum of money expended by the state for the support of schools and penal institutions was $2,518, and in 1910 over seven million dollars. The increase in population in this decade was only about twelve per cent. Thus we have an increase of about 300 per cent in expenditures and but 12 in population.

The United States government is spending millions of dollars annually to get settlers into the western lands and taking them out of Wisconsin. It is about time that something was done to get the people into our state and also to increase the value of our lands. Reports show that over 78 millions of dollars were spent in the last year for dairy products and still people will leave a state rich in these things for the west which is fast becoming dry and expensive to develop.

Millions of immigrants flock to this country every year and the birth rate keeps up just the same. Still the land has not increased in area since the day that Columbus discovered it. This means that some of the value of land will increase and the territory within a radius of 200 miles of Chicago will be the center of population in the country.

The prospering of one section of the state helps the whole state. No one city can thrive and grow without its affecting the whole commonwealth. For instance at Wausau in the case of the paper pulp industry thousands of dollars worth of materials that cannot be obtained in that district are used daily. This means the prospering of the railroads and the employing of labor, for one man cannot do it all.

The speaker then showed what the association was doing to help the state of Wisconsin to grow. Forty thousand dollars has already been subscribed to the work and this will be spent in making public the advantages of this state so that some of the thousands who annually go to other sections of the country can be diverted to our state. Most of the subscribed money will be spent right here in the state to teach the people of the value of the land on which they live.

Daily and weekly publications all over the country will be used and some of the best writers will be employed to tell of the good things in Wisconsin. Ten lectures and motion pictures are to be circulated in the neighboring states and a scheme of advertising without an equal is sought.

It pays to read the ads.

Other states get sold out of the treasury every year, a sum of money for advertising the advantages of their lands, and the association is going to ask for ten thousand dollars from our legislature.

In closing his talk, Mr. Mylrea paid a very handsome compliment to the work of the Janesville Industrial and Commercial Club. He said that the spirit manifested in the meeting last night was as good as he had ever seen and that with such an attitude prevailing on the part of the members, nothing could stop Janesville from growing and thriving. "The best thing that can come to a city," he said, "is for the men to get together and say, 'You and I can't afford to quarrel.'"

Mr. Mylrea is a very interesting and forceful speaker and with such men as he is in the lead, the success of the Wisconsin Advancement Association seems assured.

Under reports of the standing committees, H. M. Dedrick told of what had been done by the Rotifers' committee. He briefly reviewed the organization of the rotifers and what had been accomplished by them. P. H. Jackson, chairman of the committee on civic affairs, reported on the work done in behalf of the obtaining of the county training school for teachers for this city. The work for the past year of the insurance committee was explained by Amos Reiberg. He said that some steps had been taken to get the insurance rate on the buildings on the bridge reduced, and that by the installation of a sprinkler system he thought that the rate might be reduced from 37 to 25 per cent. P. J. Mount, for the committee on membership, reported the increase from 115 members at the start to 129 at the present time.

A report by H. H. Bliss for the committee on publicity was read by the secretary, Mr. Bliss being absent from the city. It told of the effort of the committee to create enthusiasm within the city by means of the newspapers and the setting up of signs along the railroad track, telling of the advantages of Janesville.

The report of the Industrial committee prepared by J. L. Wilcox, was read by the secretary. A list of industries that had been held as prospective locations in this city was given and the reason for the failure to get them.

Some twenty of these were included and the reason for the lack of success in obtaining them in almost every case was that they demanded too high a bonus or their other requirements were too much. The club's finances and a detailed account of the valuation of its property was given by S. M. Smith, chairman of the auditing committee.

A committee composed of A. E. Lindholm, N. L. Carlo and J. E. Worthington was appointed by the president to recommend for election the names of men for the new board of directors. The report of this committee was to the effect that the old board be re-elected for the ensuing year. Upon a motion being made, the secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot to this effect. In his report in which he reviewed the work of the club for the past year the president, A. P. Lovejoy, said:

This report is in the nature of a chronicle of what the Janesville Industrial and Commercial Club has done and tried to do since its organization and I have endeavored to make it briefly cover the whole story, even though in many cases it may be duplicating what the various committee chairmen say.

The idea of forming a Commercial club with a paid secretary grew out of a meeting of the Twilight club a couple of years ago when the subject was "Janesville." It was merely talked over for some time but in the fall of 1909 membership subscription blanks were circulated to see how general the interest was in such a proposition. The committee circulating these blanks met with such a favorable reception that it was determined to organize a club and two meetings looking toward this end were called during the month of January, 1910. The articles of incorporation of the Industrial and Commercial Club of Janesville, Wisconsin, were adopted the thirty-first day of January, 1910, and the first meeting was held early in February. At this meeting the following board of fifteen directors was elected:

H. L. McNamara, T. O. Howe, A. E. Matheson, J. A. Craig, Geo. G. Sutherland, S. M. Smith, H. H. Bliss, H. M. Dedrick, A. J. Gibbons, F. H. Jackson, M. G. Jeffers, P. J. Mount, Amos Reiberg, J. L. Wilcox, A. P. Lovejoy.

The chief idea of the board at that time was to employ a permanent secretary who would be a freight rate man, and a special committee was appointed (Continued on page 8).

CHANGE SCHEDULE OF TIME FREIGHTS

Entire New Line-up of Time Freight Rates Ordered According to Schedule to Begin Sunday.

There has been ordered an entire new line-up of time freight rates on the Northwestern road through Janesville which will go into effect next Sunday when the new time card will be issued. At present all the time freight rates out of here are extras with the exception of 587, which makes its run as formerly. The employees are in a pool at present and take their turn on the various trains which are sent out. When the new schedule is arranged it will bring a larger amount of traffic through this city in the daytime and will decrease the number of trains running during the night. Otherwise the traffic will be about the same with perhaps a slight increase in the total amount.

Changes in the passenger schedule have been expected for some time but have not yet been made. Changes have been postponed indefinitely.

FORCE OF LABORERS ARE CLEARING SNOW FROM TRACKS

A good sized force of laborers have been employed at the yards since Monday clearing the snow from the tracks. While the snow was not nearly so heavy as last year and drifts were not half as deep, there was enough of the white substance to keep a force busy there for the greater part of the week. Trains are not hindered at present, however, by the snow, and are arriving on time for the most part with only the usual delays.

Traffic was fairly heavy this morning through this city. Six freight trains passed through here between the hours of six and ten.

Emil Lomko has been assigned the position of night foreman at the roundhouse.

Paul Bailey, inspector in the car department, has resigned his position.

Emil Ellison and Emil Busch have been laying off for the past two days.

Robert O'Hara has returned to work at his position as holler-maker's helper after a slight sickness.

Switch-engine number 107 is out of the shop after a general overhauling.

Fireman Jackshaw has been relieving the fireman on 1509 and 602 between here and Elroy.

A Hungarian giving his name as Wallie Wallie Wash has been added to the force as a laborer.

Engineer James Walsh has been laying off and has been relieved by Engineer S. O. Dudley on 31 and 41.

Switchmen Briggs and Smith are working on the down town switch job today.

Switchman Clough has been on the sick list and Switchman Briggs has been relieving him in work at the yards.

Switchman Griffin was in Chicago yesterday.

Engineer S. O. Dudley went out on the Harrington turn around run this morning in place of Engineer Wilke, who is back on the way freight.

Engineer Townsend and Fireman Dooley went south on an extra this morning.

Fireman Gherman is laying off on account of illness and Fireman Walters is relieving him on the Northern Wisconsin division.

Fireman Ole Matherson is laying off and Fireman Wilke is relieving him on the seven o'clock a. m. switch-engine job.

Engineer Leach and Fireman Ford came down from Baraboo to relieve Engineer Smith and Fireman Fowler on 300, the 10:40 a. m. passenger run. The two latter are in Chicago on business.

Engineer Jas. Clark, who has been laying off on account of sickness, is back on the north end way freight. Engineer Crowley relieved him.

H. S. Waldmeyer, traveling passenger agent for the Erie lines, was here today, and J. D. Crawford, for the Rock Island, was here yesterday.

Switchmen Roy Horn, Garry and

Griffin are on the half and half switching job.

Brakeman Costello is on the sick list and Brakeman Byrne is relieving him.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

EIGHT HOUR SCHEDULE WENT INTO EFFECT TODAY

Machinists at the Roundhouse Have Had Time of Work Reduced From Ten to Eight Hours.

Working hours of the machinists at the St. Paul roundhouse have been reduced from ten to eight hours per day. This schedule which went into effect today applies to both the day and night forces and is a welcome arrangement. The reasons for this change are not given but as traffic is slow at present lack of work may be one cause assigned. The schedule of hours which applies to machinists, holler-makers, blacksmiths and their helpers, are as follows: For the day force, 7 a. m. to 12 a. m. and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. For the night force, 8 p. m. to 12 p. m. and 1 a. m. to 5 a. m. There will be no work overtime unless orders are given to that effect.

Engineer Kelly and Fireman Kilbuck went out on an extra at 7:45 this morning.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman McAnulla went out on an extra at 11:00 this morning.

Engineer Bates has been assigned as engineer on the new Platteville run.

Engineer Falter has been assigned on the day dog run.

J. Fox is relieving John Kallher at the sand house today.

Engineer W. Brown and Fireman Gilhepp went out on an extra at 9:15 this morning.

PHEASANTS PEST IN FIELD

Toothsome Birds Thrive Under Game Law of Washington at Great Cost to Farmers.

Seattle, Wash.—Pheasants are a plague in the Nisqually river valley, and farmers are up in arms, not against the pheasants, but the members of the legislature who made the closed season law. The toothsome birds have eaten up the potatoes and much small grain and even attacked the apples and other fruits.

It is reported from that section of the state that these white-collared, varicolored birds wing down upon the farms in large flocks. They scratch out the tubers and pick out eyes and centers, leaving but a shell of the former potato. The loss caused by the birds is large, and because of the semi-domesticated instinct of these voracious birds they do not fear scarecrows, dogs or firing of explosives. The farmers in their petition to have an open season declared state that they do not care to go gunning in their corn and potato patches when a dead pheasant means $50 fine and court costs.

The population of the Nisqually river valley is united on the petition to have an open season of two months declared, that hunters may have an opportunity of thinning the pheasant stock.

Atom May Be Electricity.

Philadelphia.—Speaking at a meeting of the American Philosophical society, Prof. Earnest Fox Nicholas, president of Dartmouth college, took for his subject "Modern Physics."

He advanced the theory that because matter has never been freed from electricity, the atom may be an electrical structure and nothing more. In other words, matter and electricity in the last analysis may be the same.

Too Many Kisses, Seeks Divorce.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Because her husband in kissing her used too much order, and because she objects to occupation as a general proposition, Mrs. Amelia Schmidt is suing her husband for divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Enough Said.

"My largest item of expense is on account of advertising." "Indeed! I was not aware that you were in business." "I'm not. But my wife reads the ads in the newspapers."

Value of Borax in Milk.

A pinch of borax stirred into fresh milk will keep it for some time, and also prevent the cream turning sour.

TO ALL READERS

The Gazette is anxious to bring each of its readers into closer touch with both the newspaper and each other. It would like to have them feel free to send in news items. Notices of parties, persons, mentions, happenings in your community, accidents that may occur—in fact anything that you think would interest other readers.

Matters of this nature can be telephoned to the editorial rooms. Call Rock County telephone 62, or Wisconsin phone 77 three rings.

Meetings of lodges, church gatherings, and special meetings of clubs it will be necessary to have written out and left at or mailed to the Gazette to avoid mistakes which might otherwise occur.

The columns of the paper are also open to communications on subjects of interest. Write your views of affairs, on one side of the paper only. Be sure and sign your name; it will not be published if you do not wish to, and either leave or cancel at the office. Try this system and you will be surprised how much more interesting the reading of the evening paper becomes to you.

"YOU'LL SUCCEED IN JANESVILLE."

One had but to be present last evening at the annual meeting of the Industrial and Commercial association, hear the reports of the officers and various committees, to realize that this association means to do for Janesville what has long been needed—advance its civic interests.

This organization, made up regardless of business affiliations, is most enthusiastic in its work. During its initial year it has had much to contend with. Many have not played the part they should in this great work and the labors have devolved upon a few. However it has all been for the one purpose, making Janesville first in prominence in southern Wisconsin. President A. P. Lovejoy outlined the work of the association most clearly and comprehensively in his report, which is printed in the columns of today's paper. He tells facts that the general public has not yet known relative to the proposed work and the good already accomplished in the work of the past year. Rome was not built in a day and the new association has had to move slowly. Its officers have been new to the work but the foundation has been laid for an excellent organization.

Janesville is growing despite the government census to the contrary—the city is progressing. One of the first questions asked of prospective manufacturing concerns is relative to the freight rates. This is an important consideration in business and the association has paid particular attention to this part of the work. It will soon have as complete a bureau in this connection as can be found anywhere.

Consideration of the home industries, factories already established but needing encouragement and perhaps financial aid, is another question that has confronted the association. Individual members have taken care of many of these problems but the credit should have been given to the association as a whole even though but a few played an important part in the transactions.

"United we stand; divided we fall," is true of every civic undertaking. The members of the association have realized this fact and have worked together and the end of the first year of their existence finds them one united organization that during the coming twelve months can accomplish much for the city. It is a hard work they have undertaken and they should have the support of every citizen in accomplishing it.

Their slogan: "You'll Succeed in Janesville," is one to tie your banner to and march ahead with the procession instead of trailing behind and being a drag upon the city as a whole.

TAFT AND RECIPROCITY.

President Taft and the Canadian reciprocity proposition are most clearly defined issues of the present session of congress. Our strenuous President has sent a word of warning to the senate that he will not brook any dilatory tactics, any filibustering to defeat a vote on this important issue, intimating that a special session of congress will be called should this occur. Whether Taft's influence in the upper House is strong enough to bring about the desired results, a vote on this matter remains to be seen, but it is to be expected that he is and the vote will be taken and the matter settled definitely. President Taft evidently means business and the senators who oppose him had best look out. The next session will see new faces in the lower House, some new ones in the upper chamber and new leaders will handle the administration affairs. The fact that England opposes the acceptance of the measure should be enough recommendation for its passage. The late James G. Blaine once said: "Find out what England does not want and then do it." England is afraid it will mean advantages to the United States and if this is true let us have the treaty by all means.

Candidates for offices at the spring election are being discussed most freely. The Gazette has no axe to grind and only makes the suggestion that the enthusiastic supporters of this or that candidate look closely into the qualifications for the office he seeks. Get good men in the council and good men in the other important positions and the result will be surprising.

This may not be good weather for golf but still there is no time like the present to talk over the coming season's plans and arrange for tournaments and such like. Janesville has one of the greatest courses in the country and it is appreciated by local enthusiasts. The next thing is to make it known the country over.

This is the season for great church gatherings. The home-coming of the members and their friends at the church, to meet and enjoy the mutual benefits the church offer to all. They are important, not for the church members only, but for the whole community.

Stoughton is to hold a great ski tournament to which state officers and other dignitaries are to be invited guests. It promises to be a most interesting affair and well worth the attention the newspapers of the country are giving it. Many from Janesville will doubtless attend.

The state board of agriculture has been re-organized. Some of the old and useless timber has been relegated to the background and it is to be hoped that the effect will be wholesome. If Iowa and Minnesota can hold successful fairs why can not Wisconsin have one to be proud of?

During the past year the city had constructed several blocks of fine pavement. Let the good work continue until the whole city is taken care of. It is one of the essentials to growth of the city to have good streets.

The California legislature is trying to vie with the Wisconsin one in introducing fool legislation for consideration. If they succeed half as well as have some of the Wisconsin members they will make a name for themselves.

This talk of a county stone pile at the county jail is really worth considering. If you asked some of the habitués of the jail you would find they did not approve, but the majority of the citizens do.

Thus far this winter the railroads have had nothing serious to complain of while the poor pedestrian has had icy walks and some snow. Thus are the corporations favored.

The council recently passed the budget for the coming business year and made but few changes in the salary lists. Economy appears to be their watchword.

Where is that elusive Miss Arnold today? The New York police would like to know and if anyone has information let them make it public.

Sometimes the man who holds up a restaurant and gets caught is sorry that he tried to play highwayman after all.

The other day, while homeward waddling, I slipped and fell under a block, and I was rendered sick and maddish by getting such

THE KIND A heavily shocked, and sundry little boys stood near me and filled with Joyous shouts the clan; they thought it fun to gibe and jeer me, and say: "O please, do that again!" I listened to the raucous things spoken, and tears dropped down my face, for all my ribs and back were broken, my vitals all jarred out of place. "The modern boy is but a viper," I muttered, as they laughed again; "when he in wickedness is ripe, they'll surely take him to the pen. Had I a son who'd laugh and chortle, and paw with gloe the fertile soil, when viewing some poor stricken mortal, I'd surely boll that youth in oil." Then came a youth in quite a hurry, to help me in my awful plight. He softly murmured:—"Do not worry; your honors will set again all right." He got a polo and then he pried me out of the pavement to my feet, and then he kindly walked beside me, and helped me up the village street. A boy like that—all men will love him, while in this world his face they see, and when the green grass grows above him, the world will prize his memory!

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE SPENDER.

Like Freddie Gebhard, Henry C. Osterman was a spender.

Gebhard died before his last dollar was gone, but Osterman lives to pay the penalty. The life story of the latter is a romance of fortune making—and spending—peculiarly American.

At seven years of age he was a New York newsboy, at fifteen he was in the navy, and at twenty he was shoveling snow in Chicago.

Finding a job as druggist, he was promoted first to brakeman and then to conductor.

It was while railroadng that he worked out his new ideas about computers and car doors—ideas which railroad managers could not ignore.

Before he was thirty he was president of a company manufacturing his devices and with the fortune of a millionaire.

Stories are told of how in Detroit he scattered $1,000 bills by ordering champagne for a whole barroom, tipping waiters with a week's pay and lighting dollar cigars with twenty dollar bills.

He scattered currency as the wind scatters leaves.

At Villa Walle, Wash., he decided one day to have a dance that evening. He hired his own orchestra, found the couples, paid the players $150 extra for "bitting it up lively" and typed everything that wore a uniform or a white apron.

Well, there was an end.

The directors of his company insisted he should buy their stock or sell his. He sold for a quarter of a million dollars and went on distributing the money.

Finally, his money gone and his reputation ruined, Osterman went on the witness stand and confessed completely in a lot of disreputable graft.

That was the end.

He was a spender. And the spender, like the miser, gets no good of his money.

The one saves his money and has none to spend; the other spends his money and has none to save.

Which is the bigger fool? However that may be, the miser does the lesser harm.

The spender forces on the public the spectacle of his riotous living and corrupt society; the miser asks nothing better than complete retirement from all publicity.

AN OLD TIME ASCENT.

London's First Balloon and the Great Excitement It Raised.

Tremendous excitement was caused when London's first balloon went up. The balloon, manned by a young Italian named Vincent Lunardi, ascended from Moorfields, then an open space of ground, on Sept. 15, 1784, in the presence of more than 100,000 spectators. All business was suspended, the king himself settling the example by adjourning a cabinet council that happened to be sitting. Vast crowds followed the balloon's course, some on horseback, in carriages, but mostly on foot. The Great North road, above which the aeronaut sailed for some distance, was a roaring river of humanity.

Many were hurt in the crush, but the only fatality recorded was the death from fright of an old country woman, who, cowering out of her cottage to see what the excitement was about, beheld the balloon just above her head. On the other hand, Lunardi undoubtedly saved one man's life, a jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty on a notorious highwayman in order that they, the prisoner and the judge who was trying the case might rush out of court to see the balloon.

The aeronaut descended eventually near Ware, in Hertfordshire, where his sudden drop from the clouds was the cause of more astonishment and excitement. Many of the spectators swooned with fear, while others urged the putting of Lunardi to death there and then on the grounds that he must needs be a sorcerer and in league with the evil one.

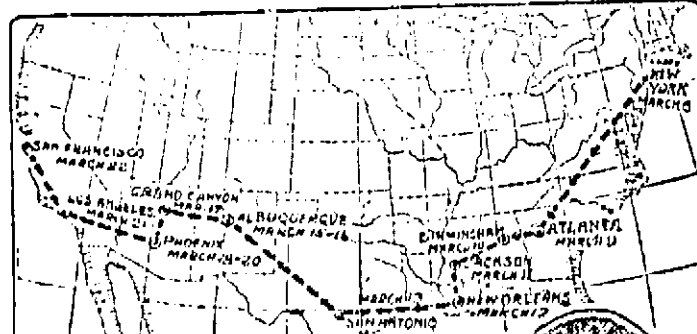

Small Necked New Yorkers.

Statistics furnished by manufacturers of shirts and collars indicate that the average New York man has a smaller neck than his out-of-town brother. Comparison of orders shows that out of a given volume of business booked Boston and Chicago led in the matter of big sizes. Inquiry at several haberdashery shops in Manhattan resulted in the information that men would have to be specially called for from the factory or had through the selling agent. In other cities it is an everyday experience to sell as high as size eighteen over the retail counter. Of course the element of size is a factor, but as a regular proposition eastern and western men are more "bull necked" than is the case with their New York brethren.—New York Press.

Dried Elderberry Leaves in Asthma.

"If you will gather leaves from an elderberry bush when they are green and let them dry and then put them into a pillow and sleep upon them nightly for about three months," said a Petersburg (Tenn.) man, "they will cure the worst case of asthma. After they are dried the leaves have a peculiar but pleasing odor. By inhaling this odor the asthma is cured. I know a number of people who cured themselves of asthma by sleeping on dried elderberry leaves."—Nashville Tennessean.

REVOLUTIONIZE TELEPHONIC COMMUNICATION.

Apparatus invented by Major Squires, by means of which it is possible for ten or more different telephone conversations to be carried on over the one wire connecting two distant points.

The greatest expense in maintaining telephone service has in the past been the cost of initial installation of the miles upon miles of wire necessary by means of Mr. Squire's invention this expense will be cut, thereby giving telephone users the benefit through lower prices.

Major Squires is not to profit by his own invention financially as he is in the government service and took his patent out in the name of the people of the United States.

Grim Jest of the Butcher.

That a butcher is not always totally devoid of humor is indicated by the remark of one of them, who said: "The best way to reduce the butcher's bill is to pay a little on it now and then."—New Orleans Item.

Old Galley a Curiosity.
A Turkish state galley, 250 years old, with seats for 48 rowers, has been discovered in the abandoned part of the Yall block, Constantinople. The hull is richly gilt and inlaid with mother-of-pearl. It is proposed to preserve the ship in a museum.

A DOUBLE REVENGE

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"Would you mind," said Gwen to me one day shortly before we were to send out our wedding cards, "if I do a bit of flirting?"

"Flirting? What do you want to do that for, and whom do you want to flirt with?"

"I wish to flirt with Ed Avery, and I wish to punish him for the way he treated me once."

"What did he do?"

"Why, he just acted as if he could marry me if he liked. He went around telling everybody we were engaged."

"Veron't you?"

"I'm! Do you suppose I'd marry that stick?"

She took my face between her two hands, pulled it down toward hers and kissed me.

"Very well, sweetheart, but remember this is the last. In a few weeks you'll be married and such things will be out of order."

"That's just the reason why I want to get this one out of the way before anything down."

I was very busy getting my affairs in shape to be married and go on my wedding trip and thought very little about Gwen's "flirting up" her old affairs and getting them out of the way. I was a little surprised one day to receive a note from her that she was feeling very badly and feared she might not be in condition for the wedding by the day she had set. I went to see her and found her propped up with pillows and looking a little pale. She said she had a superstitious dread of putting off a wedding once the day was publicly announced, and to make sure she thought we'd better make it a month later. I assented, and the order for the cards was countermanded. Gwen didn't seem to get perfectly well, and there was another putting off the announcement. One day my sister Betty came to me and said:

"Tuck, do you know that you're going to lose Gwen?"

"Lose Gwen? What do you mean?"

"I think she's going to drop you and marry Ed Avery."

"Nonsense!" I replied. "That's simply an old score she's got against Avery, and she's paying him up before being married."

"Don't you believe it."

"I know it. She told me what she was going to do before starting in."

"You mean she told you what she thought she was going to do. We women are never certain what we'll eventually do in such cases. It depends more on the man than on the girl. If a man has a girl and lets some one else take her away from him it's his own fault."

Betty left me to think over what she had said. I didn't do much thinking, but I did some mighty quick acting. I wrote a note to Gwen telling her that an old flame of mine had come to town who had jilted me. I was burning to pay her off in her own coin. I must therefore ask the same indulgence I had granted.

The reply to this was, "Come and see me at once." I called the same evening and was received very coldly.

"Who is this woman for whom you have deserted me?"

"Deserted you?"

"Yes. Couldn't I tell by the tone of your note that she was already in her toils? Do you consider it honorable for you to have had this affair and never have told me anything about it?"

"How unreasonable of you! You didn't tell me about your affair with Avery. And when you said you wished to clean it out of the way I didn't object. I merely wish to win this girl's heart who has treated me so shabbily and then throw it to the winds."

"I positively forbid you to have anything to do with her."

"You surprise me. How about Avery?"

"That's an entirely different matter."

"Not different in kind."

"I don't consent."

"Very well. I withdraw my consent to your cleaning up with Avery."

"I am just about to give Mr. Avery his desert. I don't care to be thwarted on the eve of my revenge."

"And I will not be balked in trampling on the feelings of this creature who?"

"I was so angry with the imaginary person I had conjured up for the purpose that I have choked my utterance."

"Nonsense!" A forced laugh. "It is evident you're trying to throw yourself at her feet. Go near her at your peril."

"I will not give up my revenge. I paced back and forth like a caged tiger."

"You will give it up at once or all is over between us."

"Avery is still in the market."

"I shall be through with Mr. Avery in a very few days."

"And I shall be through with my affair tonight. I shall go to see her. She will be awfully dressed, thinking to beat me through the scenes. She will give me honeyed words. I will reply in kind. Then at the moment who thinks she has me in her toils I will fling."

"Pooh!"

"Gwen," I said, altering my tone, "I have a proposition to make—a final one. We both give up our revenge or our engagement is broken."

There was some deliberation on her part, but she gave in.

Juarez and Vicinity, From Photographs Taken Upon the Scene for the Gazette

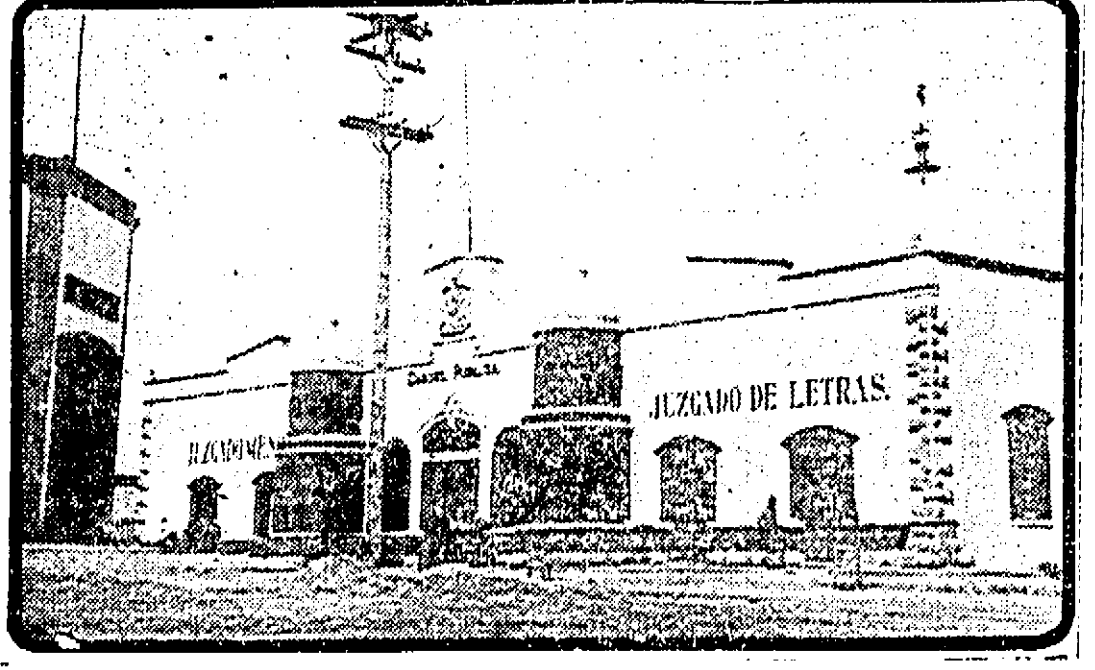

Janesville people are much interested in the Mexican revolution and particularly in the proposed attack upon Juarez, particularly so from the fact that many former residents are making their homes in El Paso, just across the border line in the United States. The pictures printed below were taken for the Gazette, give the readers an excellent idea of what sort of a place Juarez is and views of the scenes of fighting that may come. Mr. J. C. Wilmarth, formerly connected with the Gazette and now one of the owners of the El Paso Herald, has a corps of able war correspondents in the field watching every movement of both Federals and insurgents.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

AS THE twig is bent, so is the tree inclined. I wonder if any truer application of that old adage can be made than to a child's reading.

Start a child to reading some of the really fine books written for children, and some of the really fine books not written especially for children, but simple enough to interest them, and by and by you will have a grown man or woman capable of enjoying—not just reading because he ought to—but capable of enjoying good literature.

Leave a child to read indiscriminately upon a predilected diet of the average harmless but valueless child's book, and by-and-by you will have a man or woman with a weakened literary digestion, capable of enjoying nothing heartier than the current novel or the average magazine.

And yet how many parents keep a really careful oversight of their children's reading?

I don't mean merely a censorious oversight that says, "Do you read this or that," but a constructive, suggestive oversight that says, "Why don't you get this or that book out of the library?" I'm sure you'll like it.

I have occasionally been asked by mothers who do seem to feel this responsibility to give them a list of good books for children to read, and for them and for the benefit of any other mothers who may be awakened to this responsibility, I submit the following little list.

It is compiled with the assistance of several excellent children's librarians. It contains books suitable for children from five to sixteen years, but does not, of course, claim to be exhaustive, only suggestive. Anyone who wishes to give a child books at any time might find the list valuable, as they are all books worth owning.

Louisa Alcott—Little Men, Little Women, Under the Lilacs. (These three books are considered far and away her best.)

Defoe—Robinson Crusoe.

Wyss—Swiss Family Robinson.

Engelton—Hector's Schoolboy.

E. B. Hale—Man Without a Country.

Hughes—Tom Brown's School Days, Tom Brown at Oxford.

Hughes—Jungle Book, Captain Courageous.

Stevenson—Child's Garden Verse, Treasure Island, Kidnapped.

Mark Twain—Tom Sawyer, The Prince and the Pauper, Huckleberry Finn.

Cowper—Last of the Mohicans, Leather Stocking Tales.

Cervantes—Don Quixote.

Turner—Little Lord Fauntleroy, The Little Princess.

Wiggin—Polly Oliver's Problem, Birds' Christmas Carol.

Sydney—The Five Little Pipers Series. (Earlier ones.)

Swift—Gulliver's Travels.

Aesop's Fables.

Scott—Ivanhoe, Kenilworth, Quentin Durward, The Talisman.

Dickens—David Copperfield, Nicholas Nickleby, Old Curiosity Shop, Tale of Two Cities, Christmas Carol.

Selections from Les Misérables.

Lamb—Tales from Shakespeare.

Aldrich—The Story of a Bad Boy.

Hamlin Garland—The Long Trail.

Hawthorne—Tanglewood Tales, Wonderbook.

Ruskin—King of the Golden River.

Bible for Young People. (Century publishers.)

Bunyan—Pilgrim's Progress.

Anderson and Grimm—Fairy Tales.

Carroll—Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, Through the Looking Glass.

Mrs. Gaskell—Cranford.

Helen Hunt Jackson—Ramona.

Harcourt—For the Honor of the School.

MacLagan—The Book of King Arthur and His Noble Knights.

Low Wallace—Ben Hur.

Van Dyke—The First Christmas Tree.

Kingsley—Water Babies.

Ilsewer Lytton—Last Days of Pompeii.

SMART CALLING GOWN.

For formal calls or afternoon affairs a gown fashioned after above model is almost indispensable to the woman who goes out. The model from which our sketch was taken was brown crepe de chine opening in front over a tulle of rose chiffon embroidered at bottom with gold beads. A band of fur edges the bottom of skirt and forms a shawl. Chiffon cloth in a pretty shade of mauve is used for neck and yoke, and also for deep bands, which are trimmed with small bronze bead strappings.

WEIGHING SCOOP

Tape Shows Amount Taken Up Without Resorting to Scales.

A weighing scoop that is simple and scales in one has been designed by a Philadelphia man and is shown in the cut. At a glance the grocer can see the weight of the sugar or tea or whatever he may have in the scoop without resorting to the scales and losing that much time. The handle of the implement has a downward projecting arm, running parallel to the back of the scoop which is hinged to the bottom of the arm and fastened by a spring to the upper portion.

SAVES THE GROCER TIME.

A tape with weight divisions on it connects the handle and the scoop and when the latter has anything in it the tape will be drawn out to the point which indicates the weight of its contents. With an implement of this kind the grocer can go ahead and fill bags by simply dipping the scoop into a bin and consulting the tape, instead of first shoveling into the scales scoop and juggling with a set of weights.

VELVET AND FUR.

Fur has been especially favored for hat trimmings this winter, and a chic model in velvet for a young girl is of the type suggested in our cut. The sole decoration is a scarf of fur.

A Skin of Donuts is a Joy Forover.

DR. T. Felix Goursaud's Oriental Cream or Magico Beautyifier.

Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, and every blemish on the face and restores the complexion to its natural beauty. It is the best of all skin preparations. It is used by the most famous beauticians in the world. It is used by the most famous beauticians in the world. It is used by the most famous beauticians in the world.

Uplifted. The farmer now hunts up the banks with lofty, placid brow. He leaves his corn and murmurs, "Thanks, I need no more help."

Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.

THE PLEIADES.

IN the middle of February, at half past 8 in the evening, a little west of the zenith, may be seen a small but conspicuous group of stars known as the Pleiades. Some call this group "the little dipper" because it shows a handle and cup and contrasts strongly with the "big dipper," which is visible every night in the north. But the name "little dipper" belongs not to the Pleiades, but to another northerly dipper in which the north star is found at the end of the handle. There is also a "milk dipper" in the Milky Way.

The Pleiades and the Hyades—that big letter V near by with bright Aldebaran at the end of one arm—are two parts of the greater constellation of Taurus, the bull.

How many stars do you see in the Pleiades when the moon is absent? Probably six, but a seventh, "the lost Pleiad," is seen by some, yet brighter eyes make out eight, ten and even thirteen stars. But telescopes of successively higher powers will reveal more and more until you discover 100 or 200 or more.

But the photographic plate with long exposures brings them out in hosts. A single hour's exposure gives 2,000 stars in the group; six hours show 4,000 stars; seventeen and a half hours, resumed on each of several successive nights, exposing the same place each time and covering four square degrees, reveal 7,000 stars. And the process has not ceased till where you first saw six stars you now see 10,000 photographed. When you think that each of these is a great blazing sun like our own you get some conception of the magnificence of the universe, for we are looking at only a little spot when we view the Pleiades.

The principal stars of this group are all drifting in the same direction. Photography also reveals some wonderful nebulae which are possibly worlds in process of formation, still in the gaseous state. It is estimated that the light of the principal stars in this group reaches us in 250 years, while the light of our sun, 93,000,000 miles distant, comes in eight and a half minutes.

Mauder conceived of bright Alcyon in the Pleiades as the central sun around which the entire universe revolves, whereupon some argued that that must be "heaven." But Mauder's theory has never been proved.

Not to Notice.

"Have you ever been through algebra?" asked the friend of the family of the self-conscious young man. "Oh, yes," replied the latter. "But it was dark the night we went through and we couldn't see the pyramids."

How Long Are You Going to Continue Coughing and Weakening Your System?

No Need of It, When You Can Make a Pint of Laxative Curative Cough Syrup Cheaply.

The only way to cure a chronic or acute cold on the lungs, sore throat, bronchitis, etc., is to get a medicine which will at once relieve the fever and congestion responsible for the cough (which is only a symptom of inflammation) and then proceed to restore the blood and membranes to a healthy state. A laxative, curative cough syrup, which will delight any child who tries it, can be made at home cheaply. It beats ordinary cough syrups a hundred to one, because it does not sicken or constipate.

Obtain your drugstore, or have the order from the wholesaler, 214 Broadway, New York. Empty it into a pint bottle. Then make a syrup with a pint of granulated sugar, and a half pint of boiling water, put on fire and let it come to a boil. Then add and fill up pint bottle and you will agree with the writer that it makes the finest, quickest, active cough syrup you have ever tried. And it not only relieves, but cures.

The dose is a teaspoonful 8 to 10 times daily, or, as required. Give children less according to age.

PRIDE.

The hen now chants her supercilious glee. The porker stands on proudly ponderous legs. It makes them grin with pleasure when they see What's happened to the price of ham and eggs.

NEW KIND OF BROILER

Can Be Used on Any Stove and Saves the Savory Grates.

A new kind of broiler that can be used on any stove, but is intended primarily for use on a gas stove, has been invented by a Virginia man. Another feature, or rather, the feature of the device, is that all the savory juice that exudes from the meat and would otherwise drip into the fat is saved. The broiler consists of a wire frame that holds the meat in suspension from the apex of a cooking that runs to a point at the top and has a front side that lets down on hinges.

ALL INCLUDED IN CARING.

The broiler frame hangs perpendicular and as the meat is cooked the savory drips into a trough below it. It runs out of a little spout on the side and into a cup that is fixed to the side of the cooking. This can be utilized as a salad gravy, as it is very rich in flavor, or it can be converted to brown gravy by adding a little flour.

If you find any substance in your baking injurious to health made from baking powder in this can there is—

$1000
In it for you

Calumet has been backed for years by an offer of $1,000 for any substance injurious to health found in the baking prepared with it.

Does not this and the fact that it complies with all pure food laws, both State and National, prove that Calumet is absolutely pure?

With the purity question settled—then Calumet is undoubtedly the best Baking Powder. It contains more leavening power; it is more uniform—every can is the same. It assures better results—and is moderate in price.

Dr. W. E. Shallenberger
The Noted Specialist of Chicago Will Visit Janesville at MYERS HOTEL, MONDAY, FEB. 13TH.
FROM 8 A. M. TO 6 P. M.

Chronic Diseases Successfully Treated.

The doctor has such wonderful success in the treatment of certain diseases that he feels fully warranted in making the following liberal offer.

He will make a thorough examination and tell you just what can be done; what the treatment will cost and about how long it will take to effect a cure.

Dr. Shallenberger wants every person who suffers from a chronic disease to make no difference how bad their case is, or how long they have suffered, or who has treated them and pronounced them incurable, to call and consult him. He will make a thorough examination of their case, tell exactly what can be done, whether they are curable or not, how long it will require and all about it. He treats chronic Stomach Trouble, Liver Disease, Constipation, Rheumatism, Bladder Trouble, Disease of the Kidneys, Chronic Catarrh in all its forms, Heart and Nerve Trouble, Diseases of women a specialty.

Dr. Shallenberger has a system of treatment which he believes is the best known for chronic diseases. He is able to cure many cases that have resisted other treatments—that are considered incurable. He wants it distinctly understood that he does not undertake any case that he thinks is incurable, and will tell the patient candidly when he has made the examination.

He has a special treatment for general weakness of men, which he would like to explain in person. He will examine every case that calls on him on the above date absolutely free of charge.

Didn't Want It. "Will this suit wear well?" Mr. De-Lighter asked the clothing merchant. "Wear well?" repeated the dealer, "why, sir, it will wear so well that, at the end of a year no one will be able to tell it from a new suit."

"Then I don't want it," observed Mr. De-Lighter, as he cast his eye on something cheaper. "I'm going to Europe for a twelve-months' stay, and when I return I don't want to have anything in my possession that I'll have to pay duty on."

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them with the New Drug

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, outline-double strength, which is a uniformly successful in removing freckles and similar blemishes. It is a wonderful complexion that it is sold by the Hader Drug Co., under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of outline and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the freckles fading vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask the Hader Drug Co. for the double strength outline: it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

Rheumatism Comes From Bad Kidneys

Once Your Kidneys Work Properly, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease and Bladder Trouble Disappear How to Cure Yourself.

It is no longer necessary to spend months and months undergoing complicated treatment for rheumatism, kidney or bladder trouble, or spend a good many dollars in doctor's fees. Now treatment can be obtained which seems to act more like a marvel than a medicine. This treatment has produced such wonderful results in a short time that it is now guaranteed from that to last.

There should be no more doubt about the rapid cure of rheumatism, no fears of the fatal termination of treacherous kidney disease or dropsy.

Rheumatism means nothing more nor less than that your kidneys do not work properly. Your blood passes through the kidneys hundreds of times a day to be filtered and purified. When the kidneys are weak, the poisons are not taken out of the blood as they should be. This leads to various diseases, such as rheumatism, terrible (uric) disease, diabetes, dropsy and bladder trouble.

The new guaranteed treatment in Dr. Derry's Kidney Pills. One day's use of them will prove their remarkable effect. M. T. Derry of Lima, Ohio, says: "I feel bad in my back of the kidneys. I feel that my kidneys are not working properly. I have been using Dr. Derry's Kidney Pills and get immediate relief."

If you have rheumatism anywhere, back pain, rheumatism, or pain in the bladder, bright's disease, or diabetes, put your whole confidence in Dr. Derry's Kidney Pills, and you will find them to be the best of all drug stores—30 pills—10 days treatment—25 cents, or we will send them direct from the laboratory of Derry Medicine Co., Lima, Ohio, prepaid if you wish. If you want to try them first, just tell your druggist to give you a free sample package.

pointed for the purpose of getting such a secretary. During its investigation this committee corresponded with Mr. Lucius E. Wilson of Des Moines, who has been signally successful in booster work in the Iowa capital. Mr. Wilson strongly advised us to get a more general man than a freight man could be, saying that what we needed first was not a reduction in our freight rates so much as harmony among ourselves and unity of action by Janesville's business men. Mr. Wilson was finally induced to come to this city and address the club, at which time he emphasized these ideas and practically won the entire board over to his way of thinking.

We thereupon set out to get a secretary who should be an organizer and booster. About a dozen applications were received and then men making the most promising ones were requested to come to Janesville and meet the board in person. A more favorable impression was made by Mr. Louis G. DeArmand of Davenport, than by any other of the men who came here and who were within our reach, and a special committee of two was appointed to go out to Davenport and look Mr. DeArmand up. Excellent reports regarding him were received from half a dozen disinterested sources and before leaving Davenport the committee opened negotiations which resulted in Mr. DeArmand coming to Janesville on July 1st, 1910. Soon after his arrival the club authorized the hiring of an assistant who could spend his time entirely on freight work, and for this purpose, Mr. George Matthews of August, Minn., was secured. The club opened offices in the Jackson building and active work was commenced. The board has held regular meetings every Monday noon, taking lunch together and transacting business as it ate. Each member present pays for his own meal.

The December meeting of the Twilight club was conducted by the Industrial and Commercial club, when the report of work accomplished and plans for Janesville's future were very enthusiastically received. The speaker of the evening, the Honorable William George Bruce of Milwaukee, studied Janesville conditions quite earnestly the day he was here and expressed his belief that this city had great possibilities.

Our general secretary had for some time that his work in Janesville was not either entirely or congenial, and immediately after the Twilight club meeting, handed in his resignation, which was accepted by the executive committee to take effect Feb. 1st. The executive committee felt it to look for a new secretary at once and now, under consideration at several applicants, one of whom is exceptionally promising, being a man who has had wide newspaper and political experience in Illinois and Washington, D. C.

Before detailing some of the things the club has tackled, I want to call to your attention the fact that this was new work for everybody connected with the association. While Mr. DeArmand had had experience in organizing and publicity work he had never acted as a commercial club secretary—in fact active secretaries are so scarce it is almost impossible to find one looking for a position. The board of directors was new or less at sea as to what needed to be done first and how to do it and our first year's work has been more in the nature of experimentation than accomplishment.

I shall briefly review some of the things which the club has endeavored to do. Early in the spring the city's building for the year was seriously threatened by the strike of the local masons. As this strike grew in proportions the club felt it was very detrimental to the city and appointed a committee to endeavor to bring the masons and contractors together. This committee fulfilled its mission as a board of arbitration but did some work which later resulted in a settlement of the difficulties.

Complaints were received by our traffic committee from many sources about the poor condition of the switching service furnished by the C. & N. W. Ry. The traffic committee took this matter up with Mr. Cheney and had an industrial switch engine added to the local equipment and a general reorganization followed which resulted in the appointment of a new yardmaster and great relief to the shippers who had been complaining. Individual shippers had asked in vain for this relief for years past, but by concerted action the club was able to accomplish it readily.

The club supervised the sale of seats for the special performance which made possible the refurbishing of the Myers Theatre. It has discussed various plans for the beautification of the city, it has sent out a special committee to investigate the conditions of the State Institution for the Blind, with the idea of adding that institution to get the appropriation for improvements which it asks for from the state legislature. It has investigated the insurance rates on downtown property with the hope of being able to get some concerted action that might improve the risks and lower the rates it started to look into the matter of getting the telephone service improved but came to the conclusion that the situation was going to work itself out. It acted promptly when it learned that the County Normal School was establishing a Teachers' School and was considering locating it in Beloit or Evansville, and the club's special committee has interested the School Board and the Common Council so that a proposition will be presented to the County Board that we feel will keep the school here in Janesville.

The club has purchased from Nott Brothers an adequate tariff list and has started the collection of freight tariffs. We already have a better tariff than either of the local railroads offer and hope that it will be but a question of a short time before we can have a regularly equipped freight bureau. We have gathered up some freight statistics, fortified with which we hope to make a better showing in the future on rate matters, and work along the line of collection of statistics will go on from time to time, as old moments permit.

Considerable advertising has been done in a quiet and inexpensive way. The General Secretary has written booster articles whenever an opportunity offered for getting them printed without cost to the club. The Janesville papers have been kept constantly supplied with Janesville facts and a sign heard has been prepared, setting forth the advantages of the city, which will be erected so that it can be read from Northwestern and Milwaukee road trains as they are departing from the city.

The exhibition of Janesville Made Goods, in Janesville's retail stores, known as "Made in Janesville Week," was an excellent advertisement for the city and it is hoped to have a bigger and better Janesville week next year. A special committee has just recently been appointed to assist in getting the street lighting contracts signed and we are assured by the local company which has been procuring this matter that it will only be a few weeks before the principal downtown blocks will be equipped with post lights.

The Retailers' Committee is establishing a system of credit ratings which will be handled through the club's offices and which it is hoped will be of great benefit in enabling the local merchants to act promptly and efficiently on the matter of credits. The club's stenographer is working on this rating list steadily and expects it will be in operation and we will be able to give information to members within a fortnight.

An immense amount of time, from which an tangible results have been obtained except the general advertisement of the city, has been spent in following up inquiries for factory locations. You will get some idea of how much work has been done along this line when we say that out of a hundred or more inquiries received, representatives of a dozen factories have come to Janesville to look the situation over. For various reasons none of these has yet determined to locate permanently in the city, although some of them are still considering Janesville. In most cases the factories desired because their four direct lines were out of proportion to the benefit the city would derive from getting them here. The Executive Committee has under advisement a different plan for inducing new factories to locate here, and for this purpose, one of looking up only those that come to us under the present method we must only those factories that are out shopping looking for houses or other emplacements. Under the proposed method it is expected we will find factories that are ready to move and will move without requiring bonuses when they find a location and community that suits them.

The biggest accomplishment of the club, in point of money saved, was in effecting the postponement of the proposed freight tariff doing away with LCL commodity rates which were to go into effect November 1, 1910. The club's committee succeeded in having the effective date of this tariff postponed until February 1st, by which time the winter season had come to us. Under the present method we must only those factories that are out shopping looking for houses or other emplacements. Under the proposed method it is expected we will find factories that are ready to move and will move without requiring bonuses when they find a location and community that suits them.

In the judgment of your President, the biggest accomplishment of the club, in point of fact, is the organization of various rival interests on the common ground of loyalty to and enthusiasm for the city. Concrete examples of this rather intangible accomplishment are found in the organization of the retailers and of factory superintendents and the work done by committees composed of men who had never worked together before. These signs of progress are the things that can be proudest of. They are the forerunners of a great success. I think that the citizens of Janesville are beginning to feel united into an enthusiastic body ready to work out the common end of this city's advancement. Never before have competitors felt so friendly toward each other or been so willing to join hands in a common effort. By first getting unity and enthusiasm at home we can then accomplish the more tangible results which must be accomplished to make Janesville a bigger and better city, and this new feeling is the first step towards making others believe our slogan—"You'll succeed in Janesville."

ONE-MILE RACE AT RINK LAST NIGHT

Frank Byrne of Janesville Defeated Arthur Getz of Rockford—Bowl-ling Games and Billiard Contests.

Frank Byrne of Janesville, won the one mile roller skating race at the West Side rink last evening against Arthur Getz, champion skater of Rockford, Byrne leading at the finish by about half a lap. It took two false starts before the race was on and Getz took a slight lead, the Rockford contingent cheering him on and the Janesville rooters encouraging their favorite to put forth extra efforts. Byrne caught up on the leader, came even with Getz and finally worked ahead of him. The two kept about an even distance apart until the last few laps around the course when Getz slackened his pace and Byrne came in an easy winner.

The crowd at the rink was a very large one and for the time the rink was almost deafening, each side trying to drown out the other. Rockford and Beloit were well represented, two carloads of skaters from the two cities coming up for the sport. The grand march was led by a Rockford couple. One of the attractions of the evening was the trick skating of Hector de Sylva, the Australian champion. De Sylva appeared in a suit of black and gold sparkles and executed a number of clever tricks and difficult feats that brought hearty applause from the crowd.

Bowling Games. The Hazeltins took part of three games to the Chertnuts in the "snuff" league series of contests at the Rockford alleys last night. Reiter and the high score 190. Tonight the Doughnuts and Butternuts will bowl. Details of last night's games:

Hazeltins	Chertnuts
Osburn, Capt. .... 158	137
Madden ..... 160	136
Wolcott ..... 137	177
Sutherland ..... 135	183
Parker ..... 137	176
Total ..... 730	789

Billiard Games. In the series of contests in the three cushion billiard tournament, in this city, A. Grady won in 99 minutes from A. J. Harris by a score of 38 to 22. Both men had high runs of three. In 99 minutes Verne Murdock defeated C. Baumann 30 to 25. Murdock made a high run of five and Baumann three.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN MONROE COMPANY

Miller Manufacturing Co. Takes New Name, Increases Capital Stock and Will Erect New Building.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Monroe, Wis., Feb. 9.—The name of the Miller Manufacturing company has been changed to the Monroe Manufacturing company, the stockholders at the annual meeting of the company deeming the change was for the best interests of the concern. The capital stock of the company was also increased to $50,000, and stock guaranteed five per cent was issued up to that amount. An additional building was also authorized by the company. The new structure will be adjacent to the present building and will be 65x85 ft., four story. The two lower floors, when completed, will be leased by the Square Deal Automobile company. A display of machines, however, will at once be placed in the present quarters of the company. The affairs of the concern were found to be in a flourishing condition and the company is recognized as a solid institution.

Officers of the company were elected as follows: President—J. F. Maurer. Vice President—Samuel Kelly. Secretary—J. C. Gillum. Treasurer—Jacob Steiner. Director—Adam Elmer.

Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kohl celebrated their fifth or wooden wedding anniversary at their home 513 West Washington street. A number of friends, unknown to Mr. and Mrs. Kohl, planned a surprise on them and took with them a generous supply of wood. Gifts were presented in kind and the refreshments served.

Attending Lectures. Captain P. A. Shiner and Lieut. L. A. Moore and P. T. Odell are in Milwaukee to attend lectures by Colonel Caldwell of the regular army, given to officers of the First Wisconsin Infantry.

CHAMP CLARK AT HOME ILL. Minority Leader in House Suffering from Rheumatism—Senator Terrell Has Relapse. Washington, Feb. 9.—Champ Clark, Democratic house leader and ranking minority member of the ways and means committee, is confined to his home with rheumatism. He is the third member of the committee forced by illness to absent himself from the hearings on the Canadian reciprocity agreement. Chairman Payne has been absent a week with a heavy cold and Mr. Duffell is recovering from an attack of the grip.

Senator Joseph M. Terrell of Georgia, who was stricken with acute indigestion at the senate office building last week, has suffered a relapse, and his condition is reported serious.

EMPEROR WILLIAM III CANCELS ALL ENGAGEMENTS ON DOCTORS' ADVICE.

Bulletin issued by Physicians Say He is Suffering From Slight Cold.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—The announcement that the Kaiser is ill and has canceled all his engagements for the present upon the advice of his physicians, has caused considerable surprise. The news that the Kaiser's health is not all that could be desired was first conveyed to the public last night when his physicians issued a statement that his majesty was suffering from a slight cold and that they had forbidden him to attend the second court ball of the season at the castle.

That the emperor's ailment is not considered of merely passing character is apparent from the further statement that the elaborate military ceremony arranged for today at Potsdam in connection with the installation of his sixth son, Prince Joachim, as an officer of the First Foot Guards, will not take place.

SCORES DIE IN TORNADO

Three-Day Blow in French Possession—Lives Leaves Death and Ruin in Wake.

Paris, Feb. 9.—A terrible tornado of three days' duration has passed over Reunion Island, a French possession in the Indian ocean, killing scores and wrecking villages, according to advices received from the French government there.

The damage was enormous to shipping as well as inland. Reunion Island is one of the Mascarene group and has a population of more than 175,000. The district is mountainous, with the central part an elevated plateau. There are a number of fine harbors, although much of the coast is precipitous and dangerous.

2,500 STUDENTS ON STRIKE

Action Follows Repressive Measures by Russian University Cabinet—Fifty Are Arrested.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—Twenty-five hundred students of the university voted to go out on strike until Easter. The police made 50 arrests. The action of the students follows repressive measures by the cabinet, which recently deprived the undergraduates of certain privileges.

Evolution of the Overcoat. It is surprising to what an extent the motoring machine has influenced the shape of the present day overcoat worn by the man of the street. If the ordinary individual appeared muffled up in a heavy D. B. button overcoat with storm collar worn in conjunction with a light one piece tweed cap some five years ago, he would have been dubbed a crank or a weakly individual from the tropics.—Tailor and Cutter.

Significant. "A barber was picked up on the sidewalk yesterday, fanning at the mouth." "What, do you suppose, brought on his attack?" "I don't know, but he was found in front of a billboard, on which there was a safety-razor advertisement 20 feet high."

Riotous Students Go to Jail. Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Nathan Stetson of Ithaca, N. Y., and Ralph W. Perkins of Hudson, Mass., Cornell students, were sentenced to five and ten days in jail for participating in a riot last Saturday night, when a thousand students rushed a moving picture theater.

EASY CHANGE When Coffee is Doing Harm.

A lady writes from the land of cotton of the results of a four years' use of the food beverage—hot Postum. "Ever since I can remember we had used coffee three times a day. It had a more or less injurious effect upon us all, and I myself suffered almost death from indigestion and nervousness caused by it."

"I know it was that, because when I would leave off for a few days I would feel better. But it was hard to give it up, even though I realized how harmful it was to me."

"At last I found a perfectly easy way to make the change. Four years ago I abandoned the coffee habit and began to drink Postum, and I also influenced the rest of the family to do the same. Even the children are allowed to drink it freely as they do water. And it has done us all great good."

BAKER COMPANY IN ANNUAL MEETING

Directors of Evansville Concern Elected and Plans for New Power Plant Discussed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Evansville, Feb. 8.—The annual meeting of the Baker Manufacturing Company was held in the city hall at Evansville, on Tuesday, February 7, 1911. It was announced that the sales for the year were almost identically the same as last year and the net earnings slightly smaller. Messrs. J. W. Christman and Daniel Knauss were unanimously elected directors for three years. The stub shares were sold at an average price of $5.55 per share. The company is about ready to put in service their new power plant which contains one 200 H. P. generating set, one 100 H. P. and a 750 gallon live steam.

To Hold Banquet. The Pythian Sisters will have the members of the Madison and Keokuk temples as their guests on Feb. 21. A banquet will be a feature of the entertainment.

Personal and Local. Donald the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Campbell has been quite sick since Monday with congestion of the lungs but is reported much better today.

Mrs. Amelia Wilder of Carlington, N. Dakota, is here for a visit with her sister Mrs. Algeo Wilder.

Mrs. Fred Talbot of Milwaukee and one or two Evansville people have been notified that their houses on land owned by the railroad company are about to expire and the railroad is moving their buildings which occupy the ground.

Mrs. Laura Knick of Janesville, was a recent guest of Mrs. Burr Talbot.

Mrs. Eva Steinhilber of Madison, was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. Sherrer over Sunday.

Mrs. Clara Coleman who has been spending some time in this city with her mother Mrs. E. E. Hartley departed this morning for her home in Perry Center, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Howard of Lenox, S. Dakota, are here on a visit to their numerous friends in this vicinity.

Miss Ethel Frost is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. H. Blaine in Beloit.

The Camping Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones last evening.

Miss Ida Belle Lewis, who has been ill at her home in Whitewater, for the past three weeks returned Monday noon.

Miss Ethel Lees paid a brief visit to relatives in Rockford the first of the week.

Riotous Students Go to Jail. Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Nathan Stetson of Ithaca, N. Y., and Ralph W. Perkins of Hudson, Mass., Cornell students, were sentenced to five and ten days in jail for participating in a riot last Saturday night, when a thousand students rushed a moving picture theater.

EASY CHANGE When Coffee is Doing Harm.

A lady writes from the land of cotton of the results of a four years' use of the food beverage—hot Postum. "Ever since I can remember we had used coffee three times a day. It had a more or less injurious effect upon us all, and I myself suffered almost death from indigestion and nervousness caused by it."

"I know it was that, because when I would leave off for a few days I would feel better. But it was hard to give it up, even though I realized how harmful it was to me."

"At last I found a perfectly easy way to make the change. Four years ago I abandoned the coffee habit and began to drink Postum, and I also influenced the rest of the family to do the same. Even the children are allowed to drink it freely as they do water. And it has done us all great good."

NINE TEASPOONS IN STOMACH

Some Wire and a Screw Also Taken From Insane Woman's Digestive Apparatus—Now Dead.

Concord, N. H.—Peculiar facts connected with the death of Miss Catherine J. Moher of Manchester, at the New Hampshire Insane asylum in this city have come to light.

Miss Moher became demented about four weeks ago and was sent here for treatment. She seemed to recover to an extent which placed her out of the violent or dangerous class. The other day one of the asylum attendants noticed that Miss Moher was behaving rather queerly with a tablespoon. Before she could be reached by the nurse Miss Moher swallowed the spoon.

The matter was reported to the head physician, who ordered an immediate operation. Anesthetics were applied, and when the stomach was opened nine teaspoons were found therein, four being partly enveloped with hair which had been wound about them.

A good sized screw and a piece of wire five inches in length were also found in the stomach.

The authorities say that a mania to swallow silverware is not uncommon.

Miss Moher was thirty-five years old.

Makes Oyster Hammies. Paris.—A fortnight in filtered water, according to French scientists, will cleanse live oysters of the most virulent typhoid germs and make them harmless without lessening their gastronomic qualities.

An Exception. "I have observed," said the old professor, mournfully, "that women nowadays are too frivolous. The average woman's reading is not productive of any profit."

"Don't you believe it," put in the family man. "When she reads the bargain ads it's a productive of profit to the advertisers."—Catholic Standard and Times.

CHAPTER XII.

THE LAW STEPS IN.

"HISSE they come again!" called Liza as the hurry of feet along the walk threatened another attack. Ross Cavanagh again drew his revolver and stood at guard, and Liza, recovering her own weapon, took a place by his side.

"With the strength of a bear the new assailant shook the bolted door. 'Let me in!' he roared.

"It's dad!" called young Gregg. "Go away, you chump!"

"Let me in or I'll smash this door!" retorted Gregg.

"You smash that door, old Bullfrog," announced Liza, "and I'll carry one of your lungs away. If you want to get in here, you hunt up the judge of this town and the constable."

The old rancher muttered a fierce curse, while Liza explained the situation. "I'm as eager to get rid of these culprits as any one can be, but they must be taken by proper authority, firing a writ from the magistrate and you may have them and welcome."

Gregg went away without further word, and Liza said: "Let's find Higley if he's in town, and he is in town, for I saw him this afternoon. It's his hiding out to save himself trouble."

Leo Virginia, with an understanding of what the ranger had endured, asked: "Can't I get you something to eat? Would you like some coffee?"

"I would indeed," he answered, and his tone pleased her.

She hurried away to get it, while Cavanagh disposed his prisoners behind a couple of tables in the corner. "I guess you're in for a night of it," he remarked grimly, "so make yourself as comfortable as you can. Perhaps your experience may be a discouragement to others of your kind."

Lee returned soon with a pot of coffee and some sandwiches, the sight of which roused young Gregg to the impudent remark: "Well, notice that! And we're left out!" But Edwards shrunk into the shadow, as if the light hurt him.

Liza thanked Lee formally, but there was more than gratitude in his glance, and she turned away to hide her face from other eyes. Strange place it was for the blooming of love's roses, but they were in her cheeks as she faced her mother, and Liza, with fresh acknowledgment of her beauty, broke out again: "Well, this settles it. I'm going to get out of this town, dearie. I'm done. This ends the cattle country for me. I ought to have turned you back the day you landed here."

The feet halted. A sharp rap sounded on the door.

"Who's there?" demanded Liza.

"The law!" replied a wheezy voice. "Open in the name of the law!"

"It's old Higley," announced Liza. "Open the door, Ross."

"Come in, law," she called ironically as the justice appeared. "You look kind of nice eaten, but you're all the law this blame town can sport. Come in and do your duty."

Higley (a tall man with a rusty brown beard, very much on his dignity) entered the room, followed by a short, bullet-headed citizen in a rumpled blue suit with a big star on his breast. Behind on the sidewalk Ballard and a dozen of his gang could be seen. Sam Gregg, the moving cause of this resurrection of law and order, followed the constable. Higley opened upon Cavanagh. "Well, sir, what's all this row? What's your charge against these men?"

"Killing mountain sheep. I caught them with the head of a big ram upon their pack."

"Make him show his commission," shouted Gregg. "He's never been commissioned. He's no game warden."

Higley homed. "I—ah—oh, his authority is all right, Sam; I've seen it. If he can prove that these men killed the sheep we'll have to act."

Cavanagh briefly related how he had captured the men on the trail. "The head of the ram is at the livery barn with my horse."

"Now about that?" asked Higley, turning to Joe.

"I guess that's right," replied the insolent youth. "We killed the sheep all right."

Higley was in a corner. He didn't like to offend Gregg, and yet the case was plain. He met the issue blandly. "Marshall, take these men into custody." Then to Ross: "We'll relieve you of your care, Mr. Cavanagh. You may appear tomorrow at 9."

It was a farcical ending to a very arduous thirty-six hour campaign, and Liza, feeling like a man who, having rolled a huge stone to the top of a hill, has been ordered to drop it, said, "I insist on the maximum penalty for the law, Justice Higley, especially for this man." He indicated Joe Gregg.

"No more sneaking, Higley," added Liza, uttering her distrust in blunt phrase. "You put these men through or I'll make you trouble."

Higley turned and with unsteady solemnity saluted. "I fear not my government, madam," said he and so made exit.

After the door had closed behind them Cavanagh bitterly complained. "I've delivered my prisoners over into the hands of their friends. I feel like a fool. What assurance have I that they will ever be punished?"

"You have Higley's word," retorted Liza, with ironic infection. "He'll find 'em as much as $10 apiece and confiscate the head, which is worth fifty."

"No matter what happens now, you've done your duty," added Leo Virginia with intent to comfort him.

Liza, now that the stress of the battle was over, fell a-tremble. "I reckon I'll have to go to bed," she admitted. "I'm all in. This night service is wearing."

She did indeed resemble the wreck of a woman as she lay out upon her bed, her hands twitching, her eyes closed, and Liza was profoundly alarmed. "You need the doctor," he urged. "Let me bring him."

"No," she said huskily, but with decision. "I'm only tired. I'll be all right soon. Send the people away. Tell 'em to go to bed."

For half an hour Cavanagh remained in the room waiting to see if the doctor's services would be required, but at the end of that time, as she had apparently fallen asleep, he rose and tiptoed out into the hall.

Lee followed, and they faced each other in such intimacy as the shipwrecked feel after the rescue.

When they were quite alone Lee said, "You must not go out into the streets tonight."

"There's no danger. These hoodlums would not dare to attack me."

"Nevertheless you shall not go," she declared. "Wait a moment," she commanded and re-entered her mother's room.

As he stood there at Liza Wetherford's door and his mind went back over her brave deed, which had gone far to atone for her vulgarity, his respect for her deepened. Leo Virginia opened the door and stepped out close beside him.

"Her breathing is quieter," she whispered. "I think she's going to sleep. It's been a terrible night! You must be horribly tired. I will find you some place to sleep. Please don't go till after breakfast," she smiled wanly. "I may need you."

He understood. "What did the doctor say?"

"He said mother was in a very low state of vitality and that she must be very careful, which was easy enough to say. But how can I get her to rest and to diet? You have seen how little she cares for the doctor's orders. He told her not to touch alcohol."

"She is more like a man than a woman," he answered.

She led the way into the small sitting room which lay at the front of the house and directly opposite the door of her own room. It was filled with shabby parlor furniture, and in one corner stood a worn couch. "I'm sorry, but I can offer nothing better," she said. "Every bed is taken, but I have plenty of blankets."

There was something delightfully suggestive in being thus waited upon by a young and handsome woman, and the ranger submitted to it with the awkward grace of one unaccustomed to feminine care.

They faced each other in silence, each filled with the same delicious sense of weakness, of danger, reluctant to any good night, longing for the closer touch which dawning love demanded, and yet something in the girl defended her, defeated him.

"You must call me if I can be of any help," he repeated, and his voice was tremulous with feeling.

"I will do so," she answered.

Still they did not part. His voice was very tender as he said: "I don't like to see you exposed to such experiences. It angers me to think that the worst of these loafers, these drunken beasts, can glare at you, can speak to you. They have no right to breathe the same air with one like you."

She did not smile at this. His voice, his eyes, were filled with the gravity of the lover whose passion is not humorous. Against his trailing, his judgment, he was being drawn into closer and closer union with this daughter of violence, and he added, "You may not see me in the morning."

"You must not go without seeing my mother. You must have your breakfast with us. It hurt us to think you didn't come to us for supper."

Her words meant little, but the look in her eyes, the music in her voice, made him shiver. He stammered: "I must return to my duties tomorrow. I should go back tonight."

"You mustn't do that. You can't do that. You are to appear before the judge."

He smiled. "That is true. I'd forgotten that."

Instant with relief, she extended her hand. "Good night, then. You must sleep."

He took her hand and drew her toward him, then, perceiving both were der and fear in her eyes, he conquered himself. "Good night," he repeated, dropping her hand, but his voice was husky with his passion.

TARTAR FOR WOLGAST

"KNOCKOUT" BROWN PROVES SURPRISE TO CHAMPION.

New Yorker Has Clean Margin Over Michigan Boy at End of Six-Round Bout.

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—Ad Wolgast, conqueror of Battling Nelson, received the finest and probably the most lucrative walloping of his career in a six-round bout with "Knockout" Brown of New York in Jack O'Brien's handsome new arena.

Brown battered the Michigan chap pretty much as he pleased for the entire six rounds. He hit Wolgast as he pleased and when he pleased, suffering only in the clinches, where he was made to appear the novice he really is. For that over-awing round arm left Wolgast was ever a target. All he could offer was a semi-guard and the blows fell so thick and fast that the defense was misplaced much of the time.

Scarcely a dozen times during the six rounds did Wolgast lead. He waited for Brown to do that and then rolled on short range work to pull him out of his difficulties. At times Wolgast dropped his guard and stuck his chin out as a mark. Even such childish tactics failed to impress the sturdy German. He simply whaled away as before and earned a commanding lead.

Along in the fifth round Wolgast woke up to the fact that nothing but a knockout could save him. Then he began to get very rough and tried to force Brown through the ropes. But often as they broke away Brown smashed away like a flash and staggered the champion with his pile-driving left.

The margin at the close was so clean that none left the club house without picking the New Yorker as the winner.

STATE Y. M. C. A. AT FREEPORT

Annual Illinois Convention Opens With "Conservation of Young Manhood" as Its Theme.

Freeport, Ill., Feb. 9.—Remarkable enthusiasm attended the opening here today of the thirty-eighth annual convention of the Illinois Young Men's Christian association. The special theme for the four days that the sessions will continue is "The Conservation of Young Manhood," and on the program is an unusual list of speakers.

The convention address, on "The Religious Education of the Coming Generation" will be delivered by Bishop Charles P. Anderson of Chicago, and a series of talks on prayer and Christian service will be given by Rev. Dr. Howard Agnew Johnston of Stamford, Conn. Among the other speakers are President Acheson of Caldwell college, Kentucky; Charles R. Towson and Dr. George J. Fisher of New York; Eugene C. Foster of Detroit; C. J. Ewald of Buenos Aires and W. J. Robinson.

Special conferences will be held for city, student and railroad associations, and there is an interesting exhibit of association advertising, building plans, the industrial department and the foreign work. Paul J. Gilbert of Des Moines is in charge of the music.

Famous "Pint of Cough Syrup" Recipe

No Better Remedy at any Price. Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint of granulated sugar and 1/2 pint of warm water and stir for two minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of pure Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold instantly, and will usually stop the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. It tones up the faded appetite and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, throat tickle, sore lungs and asthma, and an unequalled remedy for whooping cough.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is a prime favorite in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, use only genuine Pinex, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in calcium and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this recipe.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25c per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter L. Har Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Pollenen all over the world use TIZ. Pollenens stand on their feet all day and know what sore, tender, swollen feet really mean. They use TIZ because TIZ cures their feet right up. It keeps feet in perfect condition. Read what this pollenen has to say: "I WAS SUFFERING FROM ACHING, SWOLLEN FEET FOR TEN DAYS. I HARDLY KNOW HOW TO THANK YOU ENOUGH FOR IT. I RECEIVED IT TO POWER FOR PLANKING. I CAN TELL MY PLEASANT SURPRISE. I BELIEVE IN MY EARNEST GRATITUDE FOR TIZ. I AM A POLICEMAN AND KEEP ON MY FEET ALL DAY."—EMORY HARRISON, DETROIT, MICH.

You never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before said.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never hurt again or draw up your face in pain and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and calluses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25c per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter L. Har Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Too Useful to Throw Away.

Almost everything has its uses, even frayed silk pillowcases and stockings that are past wearing. The latter make good floor polishers. For this purpose three or four of them should be rolled into a compact bolster and served securely. Old silk handkerchiefs and squares from discarded silk petticoats make the best kind of dusters. Tray cloths and doilies which have become too shabby for the table should be kept for polishing glasses. The unworn portions of old tablecloths, cut into squares and hemmed, can be used for wrapping up bread and cake. For wash cloths nothing is better than the good parts of worn-out knitted underwear cut in symmetrical pieces and hemmed. And in sickness pieces of old sheets and of flannel garments are invaluable.

A Re-enforced Stocking.

A stocking that fits a long felt want among small boys, scrubwomen and other persons who spend a great deal of time on their knees is that designed by a woman. This stocking is made with a transversely ribbed gore on the knee that will stand many times the amount of wear and tear that the knee of an ordinary stocking will.

THE RIBBED KNEE-GORE.

Above the cuff the stocking is ribbed longitudinally, while the gore section is ribbed crosswise and is made of heavier material, more closely knitted. The small boy who will go through an ordinary stocking the first time he puts it on can crawl around and climb trees in this kind for many a day before the knee gives way. Even then a new piece can be set in which will look and feel much better than patches. For working women who have to go on their knees, as in scrubbing up floors and the like, stockings of this design will be found not only economical, but comfortable.

The Gazette Has a Wonderful Circulation

About seven-eighths of the homes of Janesville get The Gazette and MORE homes outside of Janesville than in the city get The Gazette. Merchants who want both city patronage and out-of-town patronage get it from The Gazette.

In China the property of the parent must be equally shared by the children, on the death of the former.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have this disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

However, if you wish first to test the preparation, the manufacturers will gladly forward you a sample bottle by mail, absolutely free
